

Ubility One from Grammer at InnoTrans and IAA Transportation: A new approach to sustainable seating on buses and trains

Grammer AG, August 16, 2022. Climb aboard and sit down in the passenger seat of the future: Grammer, one of the leading international manufacturers of commercial vehicles and passenger seats, will be presenting the innovative Ubility One product family at InnoTrans and IAA Transportation, the two leading international trade shows for transport and logistics. Visitors will be able to try out all three Ubility One models in a public transport mock-up:

- at InnoTrans in Berlin, September 20-23, Stand 610 in Hall 1.1
- at IAA Transportation in Hannover, September 20-25, Stand A10 in Hall 23

The innovative seating concept for buses and trains takes passenger flows into account, creating flexible seating options in three different zones. Circular economy, consistent lightweight construction, surprising design, and high user comfort are exceeding expectations: Ubility Air, Ubility Light and Ubility Shift will be providing answers to the requirements of tomorrow's urban mobility.
